LABURRAK IN BRIEF

21 gramo

"Memoria kaxa" kontzeptu pean aurkeztu bada ere, kaxa honek duen objektu aipagarri bakarra dildo bat da. Dildo honen ezaugarri nagusia, hildako maitatuaren errautsen 21 gramo barruan sartu eta heriotzatik harago doan sexu harremanak izateko aukera eskaintzen duela. 21 gramo omen da arimaren pisua. Kasu honetan, arima horrek, une ederrak eskaintzen lagunduko ditzu.

21 grams

Although this has been presented as a "memory box", the only thing of mention in it is a dildo. The main thing about the dildo is that it contains 21 grams of your dead lover's ashes and offers you the chance to have sexual relationships beyond the grave. Apparently 21 grams is the weight of your soul. In this case, the soul will help you to have some great times.

kalealdia

Uztaileko lehen astean, Bilboko kaleak antzerkiz eta proposamen artistikoz beteko dira. Urteetan geroz eta jende gehiago biltzen duen Kalealdia gustu eta adin guztientzako eskaiza interesgarri, divertido eta berritzaileak dakarria urtero. Kalera ateratzeko aitzakia ederragorik ez zaigu otutzen.

kalealdia

The streets of Bilbao are going to be full of street theatre and artistic events during the first week of July. Year by year more and more people with different tastes and of different ages come together for Kalealdia's interesting, fun and innovative programme. There's no better reason for stepping out.

ZIN ZINEZ

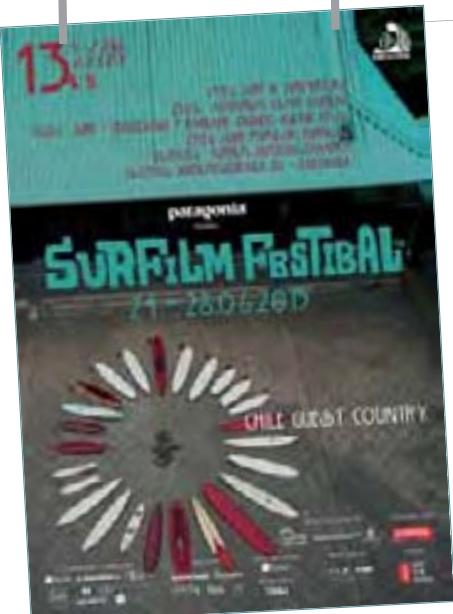

zinemaldia donostia

Aurtengo Donostiako Zinemaldian, ohi bezala, sail ofizial eta lehiaketa sailez gain, zinefiloek eskertzen dituzten atal interesgarriak antolatu dituzte. Batez ere, sail hauetaz kanpo ia ezinezkoa delako pelikula hauek pantaila handian ikustea. Aurten, besteak beste King Kong liluragarria filmatu zuten Merian C. Cooper eta Ernest B. Schoedsack zuzendariei eskainitako ziklo ederraz gozzatu ahal izango dugu.

san sebastian film festival

At this year's Donostia Zinemaldia there are interesting cycles for cinema lovers as well as the official programme and the competition. In fact, it's almost impossible to see these films on the big screen elsewhere. This year, amongst other things, there's a chance to see films by directors Merian C. Cooper and Ernest B. Schoedsack, the creators of the wonderful King Kong movie.

Chile is this year's invited country, a collective from Japan has made the poster and, as always, it'll be a chance to watch films of waves from all over the world. It's clear that people who enjoy the sea don't recognise any geographical boundaries. There'll be no shortage of exhibitions, parties and concerts at this 13th edition.

This year's EHZ festival is going to be held on 3rd, 4th and 5th July. One of the many good things which we can say about this festival is that every year it puts on lots of well-known and lesser-known music and, if only for that, this isn't just another festival.

Oñatiko kantoikrit bizikleta frogan izan ginenetik arrisku kirola kontzeptuak adiera berria du gure hiztegian. Txirrindulariak, kamikazeen moduan, Oñatiko kaleetan barna, etxeetako pareta eta ertzetatik milimetroetara zitzu bizian ikusteak ez du parekorik. Ostean antolatzen den parrandak ezta ere. Since we went to Oñati's kantoikrit bicycle trial the idea of extreme sport has taken on a new meaning in our dictionary. BIZI LITERATURA
www.elkarargitaletxea.eus

bidaia filosofiko bat

Bidaiaren hasiera puntu memoria da. Jaiotza izan liteke zerozik hasten dugun bidaia bakarra. Mundua bidaiaz egina dago. Ehunka kultura ezberdinek denboran zehar konpartitutu duten aurkuntza, bizirautea, bizitza eta heriotzaren eremua da bidaia.

Bidaia hitzak, pertsonak adina esanahia izan ditzake. Bidaia beraz ez da hitz perfektu bat, ez da guztiontzat adiera bera duen kontzeptua. Habermasek ongi azaltzen du, bidaia prozesu bat dela, besteengandik ikasten duguna barneratzean ematen dena. Zentzu honetan, ikasitako hitz bakoitza bidaia berri bat da eta pertsona bakoitza bidaia potentzial bat.

Batzuentzat, bidaia, norakoa buruan duzun momentutik hasten da. Marinelek ongi dakite. Haize guziak dira egoki norabidea argi duenarentzat. Beste batzuentzat hain zuzen ere guztiz kontrako da. Bidaiatzea, nora zoazen ez jakitea da. Montaigne-k zioen atzerritarrekin kontaktuan ezagutzen duela norberak bere burua. Bordele inguruko filosofoak dioena zalantzak jarri nahi izan gabe, kontrako, hau da, norberaren lurradean atzerritar izatea ez ote den bidaia interesgarriagoa pentsa genezake ere. R.L. Stevenson-ek zioen moduan, atzerria ez da existitzen, bidaaria da atzerritar bakarra.

Bidaiaiak bere izaera eta nortasun osoarekin bidaiatzen du. Bidaiatzen duen bitartean "da". Eta izate horren barne aurreiritzia daramatza berarekin batera. Éxupery-k honi bidaiaiaren "jantzi ikusiezina" esaten zion.

Bere burua benetan nor den deskubritzen duenean iristen da destinura bidaaria. Wendell Holmes-k azaldu zuen moduan ideia berri batetara zabaldu den gizakia ez inoiz bere izaera originalera itzuliko.

Bidaia guztiak ez dituzte ondorio berdinak. Aurretik aipatu bezala, kultura ezberdinak gizaki gehienentzat, bidaia ez da aisiaaldi. Bidaia, giza espeziearen adierazgarrietako bat da. Migrazioa. Deportazioa. Ihesaldia. Hauek ere bidaiai dira. Datozen orrialdeetan ongi ikusiko duzuen moduan, bidaia, estetikoki ia berdina izanik ere, guztiz bizipen antagonikoak izan daiteke.

Ez dago bidaiarik autokritikari gabe. Eta barne bidaiaaren metafora higatuarekin ez da nahikoa. Bidaiatzean, asmoa ez da nahikoa. Cesare Paveserentzat, bidaiatzea basakeria da. Jende ezezagunaz fidatzea eta ezaguna eta eroso zaizkizun lagun eta gauzei muzin egitea eskatzen dizu. Desorekan zaude une oro. Ezer ez da zurea oinarritzkoena ez ezik: airea, deskantsurako orduak, ametsak, itsasoa, zerua.

Bizi ditugun garaiotan, badirudi geldirik geratzea jokoz kanpo geratzea dela eta ez mugitzea frakasoaren sinonimotzat hartzen dugu. Horregatik, bidaiatzea, beharrezko aisiaaldi modelo bihurtu dugu, nahiz eta askotan gure sare sozialetako argazki bildumak elikatzeaz harago, ez dakigun benetan zerk bultzatzen gaituen bidaiatzera. Bidaia "ni" bilatzeko baino "ni"-tik ihes egiteko egiten dugu.

Nietzsche, Zaratustraren hitzetan jarri zuen: <<Bidaiaia naiz eta mendi eskalatzalea naiz. Lautadak ez ditut atsegina eta ezin dut luzaroan eseri. Destinuak destinu, eta biziak beti izanen da bidaia eta mendi bat eskalatzeko: azken finean, norberak bere buruaren biziak solik izan ditzakelako>>.

Biziak horiek ez dute atzera bueltarik. "Ni"-a bilatzeko edo "ni"-tik ihes egiteko bidaiatzen bada ere, ezinezkoa da inora itzultzea. Hasera puntuak ez direlako inoiz geldirik geratzen. Dena mugitzen da, hasiera puntuak, etxea, familia, lagunak, paisaia, memoria, "ni"-a. Horregatik inork ez du sekula bidaia batetik benetako itzulerarik egin.

Memory is a journey's starting point. Birth may be the only journey on which we start from zero. The world's made up of journeys. Journeys are the discovery, survival, life and death which hundreds of different cultures have shared throughout history.

The word journey can have as many meanings as people do. Journey, in itself, isn't a perfect word: it doesn't mean exactly the same to everybody. Habermas puts it well when he says that a journey is a process, something we learn from other people and make our own. In that sense, each word we learn is a new journey and each person is a potential journey.

For some people, a journey starts as soon as you think of the destination. Sailors know that well. All winds are good for people who are sure about where they want to go. For other people, though, the opposite applies. Travelling is not knowing where you are going. Montaigne says that people get to know themselves when they come into contact with foreigners. Without wanting to question what the Bordeaux area philosopher says, you could also think that the opposite – being a foreigner in your own land – may be a more interesting journey. As R.L. Stevenson said, abroad doesn't exist: a traveller is the only foreigner.

Travellers travel with their own personalities and all their character. They "are" while they travel. And that existence includes carrying prejudices around with you. Éxupery called that the traveller's "invisible clothes".

The traveller reaches the real destination on discovering his or her real self. As Wendell Holmes put it, "Man's mind stretched to a new idea never goes back to its original dimensions."

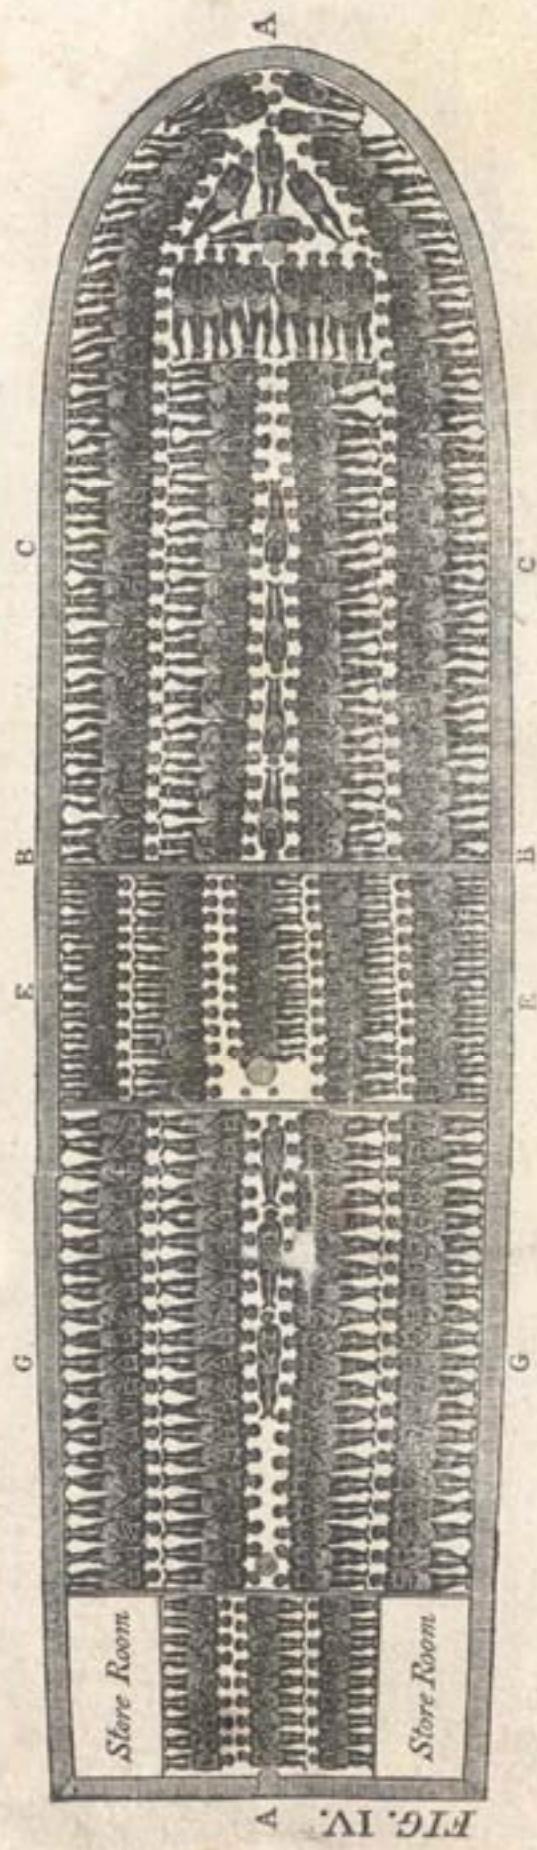

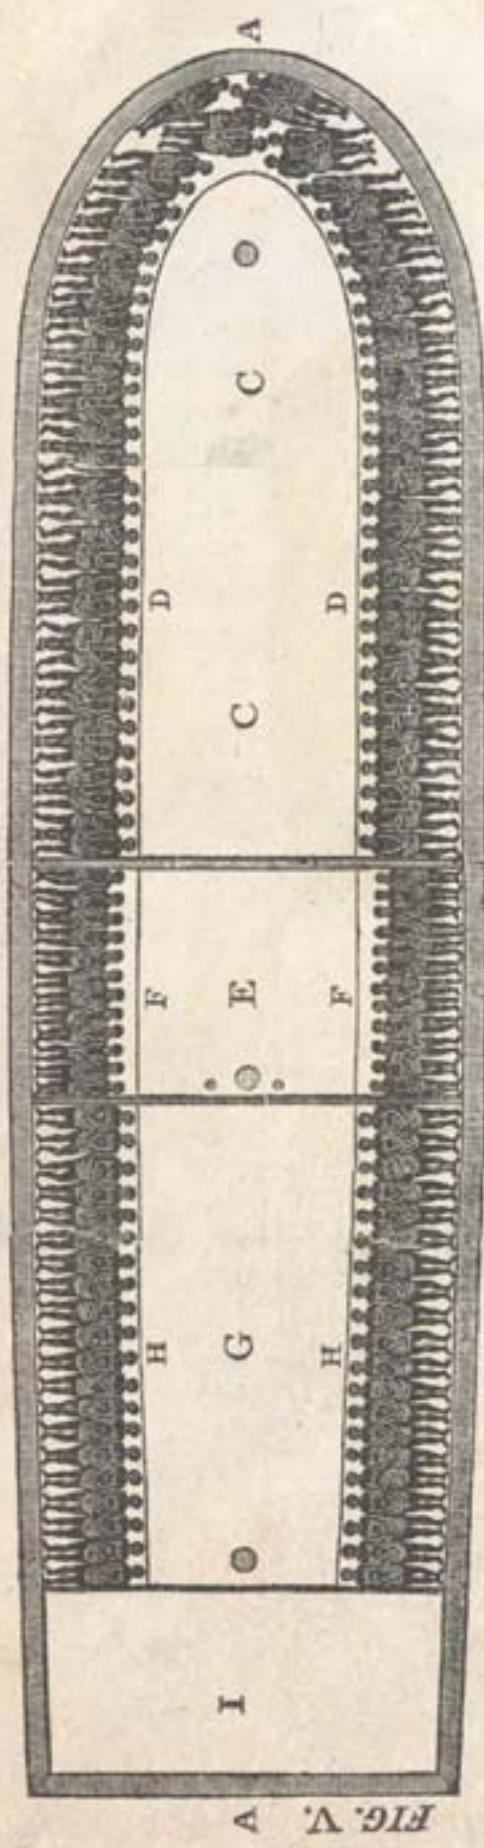

Not all journeys have the same consequences. As said above, for most members of different cultures travelling is not a matter of leisure. Travelling is a characteristic of the human race. Migration. Deportation. Flight. Those are journeys too. As you will see on the next few pages, even though journeys may be aesthetically similar, they can also be absolutely opposite experiences.

Travellers without self-criticism do not exist. And the worn-out old metaphor of internal journeys isn't enough. To travel, intention is not enough. In Cesare Pavesere's words, travelling is an atrocity. It means we have to trust people we don't know and leave the people and things we're comfortable with behind. You're unbalanced all the time. Only the most basic things are yours: the air, moments of relaxation, dreams, the sea, the sky.

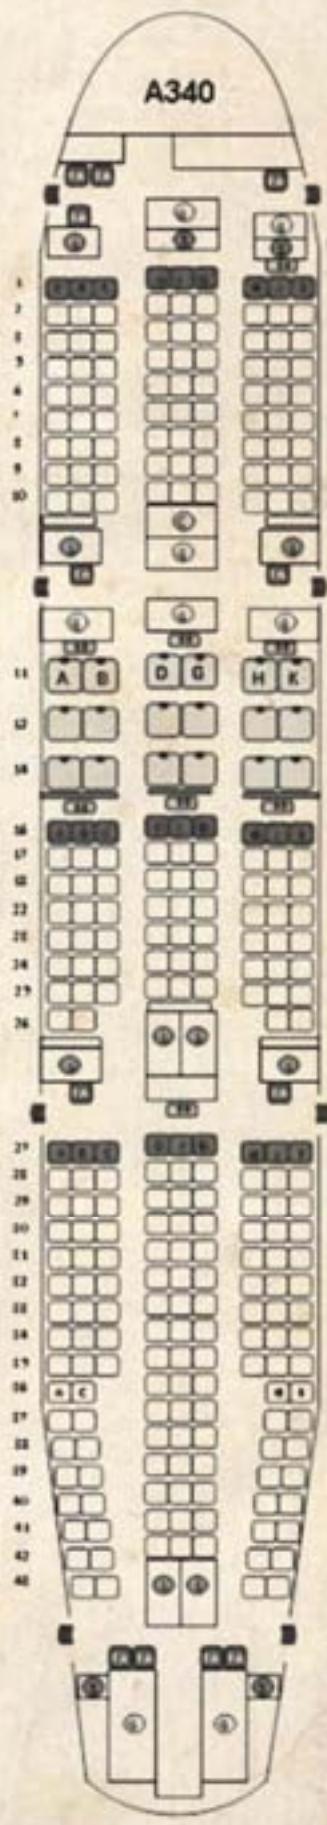

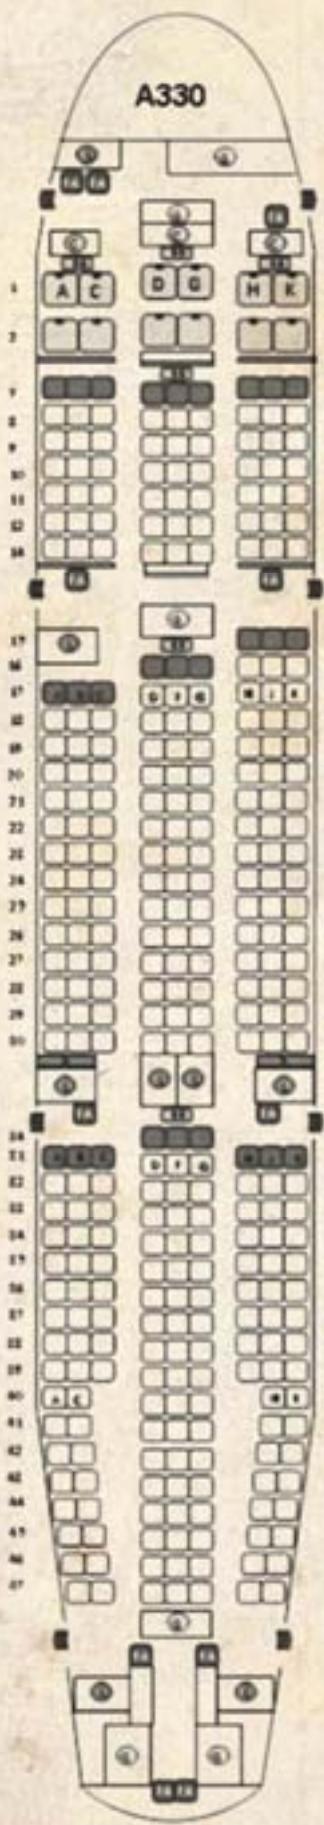

In the times we live in, we take keeping still to be losing our place and not moving to be a synonym of failure. That's why travelling has become a necessary model for leisure, even though often we don't know what makes us travel apart from the desire to feed photos onto the social networks. You don't travel to find yourself, you travel to get away from yourself.

Nietzsche said it in Zaratustra's words: <<I'm a traveller and a mountain climber. I don't like plains and I can't sit still for long. Whatever the destination is, whatever the experiences, there'll always be journeys to go on and mountains to climb: when it comes down to it, only you can have your own experiences>>.

There's no way back from those experiences. Whether you travel to find yourself or to get away from yourself, there's no going back anywhere. Starting points never stay still. Everything moves: starting points, home, family, friends, countryside, memory, you yourself. That's why nobody ever really comes back from a journey.

Baina Lanpedusako lonjan ez dute lortzen eroslerik...

There are no takers for the fish that boats from Lampedusa catch.

Even the people of Lampedusa prefer to go the supermarket to buy frozen fish caught on the other side of the world.

Nobody wants fish from the giant Mediterranean fish farm.

And it's no surprise bearing in mind the fact that the fish are eating better than ever.

Proteins and fat.

And all of it natural and organic.

All part of the food chain.

Thousands of kilos.

The fish in the Mediterranean have never been so fat and healthy.

But there are no takers at Lampedusa fish market...

ametsen amaiera

2003. urtean, Nikolaj Bendix Skyum Larsen artista, Arabiar Emiratoetan dagoen Sarjah-ko biurtekora gonbidatu zutenean, astebeteko bisita urtebeteko egonaldi bihurtu zen. Bertoko langileei erakusketa instalazioak antolatzen irakasteko kontratatu bai zuten. Horietako langile asko India eta Pakistandik zetozentzera eta Larsenek orduan izan zuen, aurrez aurre, etorkinek egin behar izaten dituzten bidai luze eta arriskutsuen berri.

Eta orduz geroztik etorkinak izan dira bere lanaren ardatza. Etorkinen kontzentrazio handiak izaten diren guneetara (Frantzia, Turkia, Grezia, ...) filmaketak eta elkarriketak grabatu eta ostean ikus-entzunezko instalazioak sortzen ditu, "Rendezvous", "Promise Land" edo eta "End of Season" besteak beste.

2001. urtean, Thessaloniki-ko biurtekoan, porlanezko 48 giza eskultura egin eta hainbatetan kostaldeetako hondartzetan benetazko giza gorputzakin ikusi dugun moduan, oihalekin bildu zituen "Ode to the Perished" izeneko lanean.

Honaino, guztia gutxi gora behera normal. Gure errealityateaz hausnartzeko aukera eskaini nahi digun beste artista bat. Arte oenegeroaren mugan. Bestetik, putakume bat sentitu gabe kritikatza zaila den artea. Biurtekoak, aldizkari espezializatuak eta gure izeba katekistaren oniritzia jasotzen duen artea.

Larsenek, oihalekin bildutako giza eskultura horiek plataforma batean eseki eta itsasoan hondoratzea erabaki zuen. Itsasoak bere higadura eta eraldatze lana egin zezan. Baino itsasoak hori baino gehiago egin zuen. Ekaitz batek, Calabriako badia batean zeuden giza eskulturak soltatu eta hondoratu egin zituelako han hemenka sakabanatuaz...

"Nire lan guztia galdu nuelako asaldaturik nengoan, eta Giuseppe Politi ur azpikoa argazkilari eta lankideari desastrearen irudia batzuk ateratzeko esku zu zion. Baino irudietan, tristura, ezinegona, edertasuna eta poesia topatu nituen. Bat batean jabetu nintzen, itsasoak, nire artea eta etorkinek bizi duten errealityatea bat bihurtu zitzuela". Ondorengo hilabeteetan filmaketak eta irudiak egiten jarraitu zuten eta beste urpekari batzuk "erreskatatutako" hainbat eskulturak ere topatu ahal izan zituzten. Emaitzia "End of Dreams". Artistak eta Mediterraneoak "elkarlanean", hondoratuta itotako milaka pertsonei eginiko erretratu eta omenaldia.

end of dreams

In 2003, when artist Nikolaj Bendix Skyum Larsen was invited to the biennial at Sarjah in the United Arab Emirates, what was going to be a week-long visit turned into a year. Because they gave him a contract to teach the workers there to organize exhibition installations. Many of the workers had come from India and Pakistan and it was then and from them that Larsen got to hear about the long, dangerous journeys that immigrants have to take.

And since then immigrants have been at the centre of his work. He goes to the places with the highest proportion of immigrants (France, Turkey, Greece, ...) to film and interview them and uses the material he gets to create audio-visual installations: "Rendezvous", "Promised Land" and "End of Season", amongst others.

In 2001, as part of the Thessaloniki biennial, he made 48 human sculptures and left them on 48 beaches as if they were real bodies, wrapping them up in cloth, and calling the work "Ode to the Perished".

So far, pretty normal. Another artist who wants to give us a chance to reflect on our reality. Where art and NGO's meet. What's more, a type of art which it's difficult to criticise without feeling like a bit of a bastard. Art which meets with the approval of biennials, specialist magazines and your religious aunt.

Larsen decided to hang all those human sculptures from a platform and put it in the sea. For the sea to move and transform. But the sea did more than that. A storm untied the human sculptures in the Bay of Calabria, sank them and spread them far and wide...

"I was shaken up because I'd lost all my work and I decided to ask my colleague the photographer Giuseppe Politi to take some pictures of what was under the water. And in his shots I found sadness, anxiety, beauty and poetry. Suddenly I realised that the sea had made my art and the immigrants' reality one." They carried on filming and taking pictures over the following months and were able to "recover" some other underwater sculptures too. The result is "End of Dreams". It's the co-work of the artist and the Mediterranean: a portrait and homage to the thousands of people who have drowned there.

The Double EP bikoitzean bere lehendabiziko bi lanak batu ostean rock fresko eta dirdiratsua erakusten duen diskoa dakar Courtney Barnett Australiarak. Pedestrian at best kantua lehen akordetik burutik kendu ezinda ibiliko zara. Horrekin batera Nobody really cares if you don't go to the party bezalako altxorrak aurkituko dituzu energia berezia trasmititzen duen disco honetan.

Having put out her first two releases as a double EP, the nicely titled The Double, Australian Courtney Barnett is back with some refreshingly bright rock on her latest album. From the opening chords on the tune Pedestrian at best, you won't be able to get this record out of your head. You'll also find hidden treasures like Nobody really cares if you don't go to the party. A record that undoubtedly transmits a special energy.

Doinu instrumentalak eta Oihan Lopetegiren ahotsak betetako abestiek tartekatz Passion fruit eta Shine bezalako kantu borobilak osatu dituze. Jon Braun-ek amaiera paregabea ematen dio lan honi.

Five-piece band Makala Jazz Funk has really come up with some hot stuff on this album. It's compiled of songs that capture a real live feeling of funk, jazz and soul. Mixing melodic instrumentals and others featuring singer Oihan Lopategi, fully-rounded songs like Passion fruit and Shine make up the record. The final track Jon Braun is really special.

Folk gordinaz betetako disco pertsonala osatu du Kristian Matsoonek. Bere eraginak traizionatu gabe Suediako abeslariak Dylanen eragina erakusten jarraitzen du. Darkness of the dream azkarretik Singers geldora edo Little nowhere towns espiritualera doazen abestiek aurkituko dituzu arretaz entzutea merezi duen disco bikain honetan.

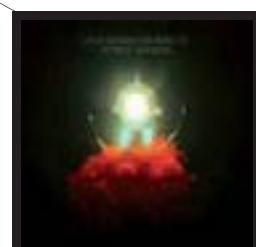

Kristian Matsoon is back with an album full of raw personal folk. While remaining loyal to his roots, the Dylan influence on this Swedish singer is still clearly present. You will find songs that move from the pacy Darkness of the dream to the slow Singers or the spiritual Little nowhere towns on this excellent record.

Talde intentsua da Built To Spill. Keep it like a secret diskoarekin ezagutu nituen nik duela urte batzuk jada. Talde kosmikoa iruditu zait beti, indie rock eta noise etiketak asmatu aurretik giro horiek jorratzen zituen. 2015ean argitaratutako disco honekin, 20 urtetik gorako ibilbide daramate jada, beti bezain gazte izaten jarraitzen dute eta entzulea ere horrela sentitzen da. Batez ere Living zoo bezalako abestie esker.

Built To Spill are an intense band. I first came across these guys a few years back. I've always thought that they were a cosmic band; this lot were playing indie and noise before those labels were invented. Their latest release in a twenty-something year career. They are still as young as ever and they make the listener feel the same. That's especially thanks to songs like Living zoo.

Hasieratik Patrick Watson-en faltseteak markatu ditu talde honen abestiek. Orain, taldearen ibilbideko bostgarren disco honetan, soinu paisaiek giro hipnotikoien mesedetan lan egin dute eta bere ibilbidean argitaratu duen lan sendoenaren aurrean kokatzen gaituzte. Kolore ezberdinez betetako lana da Love songs for robots eta *Good afternoon Mr Wolf*da horren erakusle garbiena.

Patrick Watson's falsetto has characterised this band's songs from their very beginning. This time round, on their fifth record, the band have moved their sonic landscapes towards more hypnotic atmospherics and, well, it's their strongest offering yet. There is more than one string to their bow; you'll hear what I mean on Love songs for robots and Good afternoon Mr Wolf.

1763 eta 1766. urteen artean, Mozart familia "bidai handia" deritzona egin zuen European barna. Leopold eta Anna Mariak, Wolfgang Amadeus eta Maria Anna seme-alabekin batera Europako hiri nagusietan barna musika emanaldi bira egin zuten: Salzburg, Viena, Munich, Zurich, Lyon, Paris, London, Amsterdam... eta bira handi haren berri Leopold aitak idatzitako eskutizie esker daki. Berri Txarrak taldeak European barna egindako azken birenaren berri, taldeko bateria jole eta argazkilariaren Galder Izagireren eskutik iritsi zaigu. Eskutitz batean kontatuko ez zenituzkeen irudi eta uneak, taldearen instant intimoagoak, isiltasun erretiratuak, lehortik beste aldean pasatzen diren paisaia iheskorrak, emanaldi aurreko eta osteko ezelku eta "ezdenborak".

Between 1763 and 1766, the Mozart family did what was called their "Grand Tour" of Europe. Leopold and Anna Maria, along with their children Wolfgang Amadeus and Maria Anna, travelled around Europe playing concerts in most major cities: Salzburg, Vienna, Munich, Zurich, Lyon, Paris, London, Amsterdam... We know of this tour thanks to letters written by the father Leopold. The Mozarts were the first to put together an organised international tour. We have heard about Berri Txarrak's latest European tour straight from drummer and photographer Galder Izagirre. His photographs illustrate intimate band moments, portraits of silence, momentary fleeing landscapes on the other side of the window, the non-places and non-time of before and after a gig... things you wouldn't find in a letter.

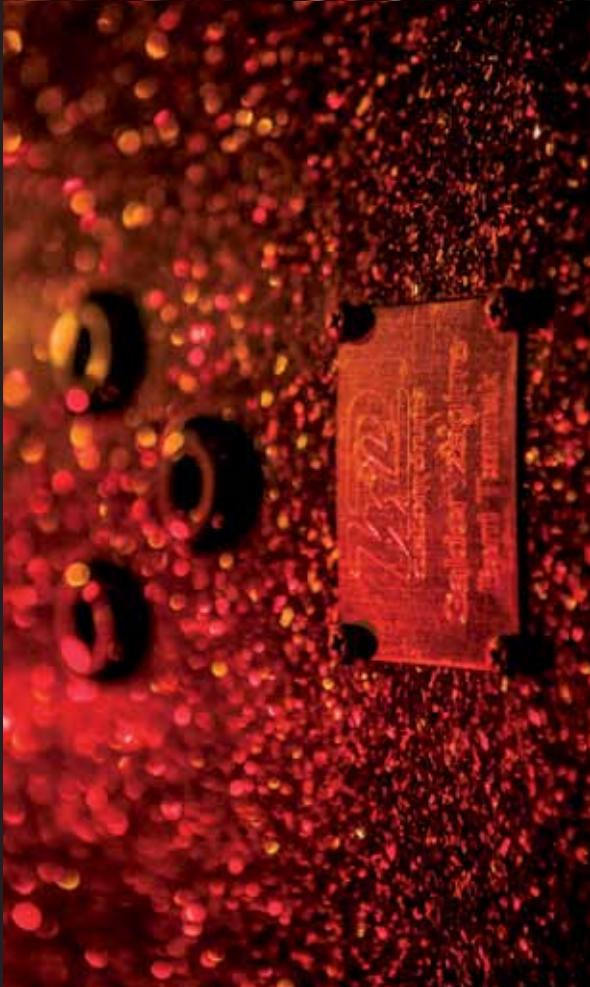

<< Garagardo lata gehiago ireki ditugu eta gailuak jasotzen anaizten ditugun bitartean edan dugu. Gailu bakoitzaz dagokion lekuau, bere fundan, bere maleta estuan. Loading the van - a form of purgatory some friends used to say when we were kids. Leads, pedals, plects, strings, nuts and bolts, pliers, scissors, spare bits and pieces. Each piece of equipment in its own case.

<<The atmosphere is wonderful. With this kind of atmosphere anything is worth doing. I'd pay to do this, this crazy moment of passion, the friendship, it's intoxicating, it takes me over, I knew it would. I'm like a blazing match. >>

Aspaldi da The Damned talde britaniarra ez zetorrela gure aretoetako batean jotzena. Hamairu urte erraz... Sekulako notizia izan da beren itzulera. Lie Detectors-en jotzen dut gitarra eta gure taldeari luzatu zioten beren kontzertua irekitzeko eskaintza. Irudikatu nire poza. Lau sosa eskaini ziguten, baina egia esan doan jotzeko eskaintza egin izan baligute ere gustora joango ginela uste dut...

Aitortzen dut, talde batzuekin groupie xamarra naiz. Dena den, oso gustoko ditudan beste talde batzuekin jo izan dudan aukera batzuetan, alu galantekin topo egin dut, beraz arreta apur batekin noa beti halakoetan. Askotan, handienak jatorrak izaten dira, eta bigarren mailako edozein taldek super izarren jarrera ergela erakusten dute. Ez zen kasua izan. Jende jator eta urbileko suertatu zen. Zure musikari kuttunenetako batek zure taldeak eskainitako kontzertua eskenatokiko hegaletik ikusten duenean sekulako txutea da ni bezelako fan batentzat. Han zegoen Captain Sensible, nigandik 3 metrotara eserita, irribarre batekin O.K. keinua eginez.

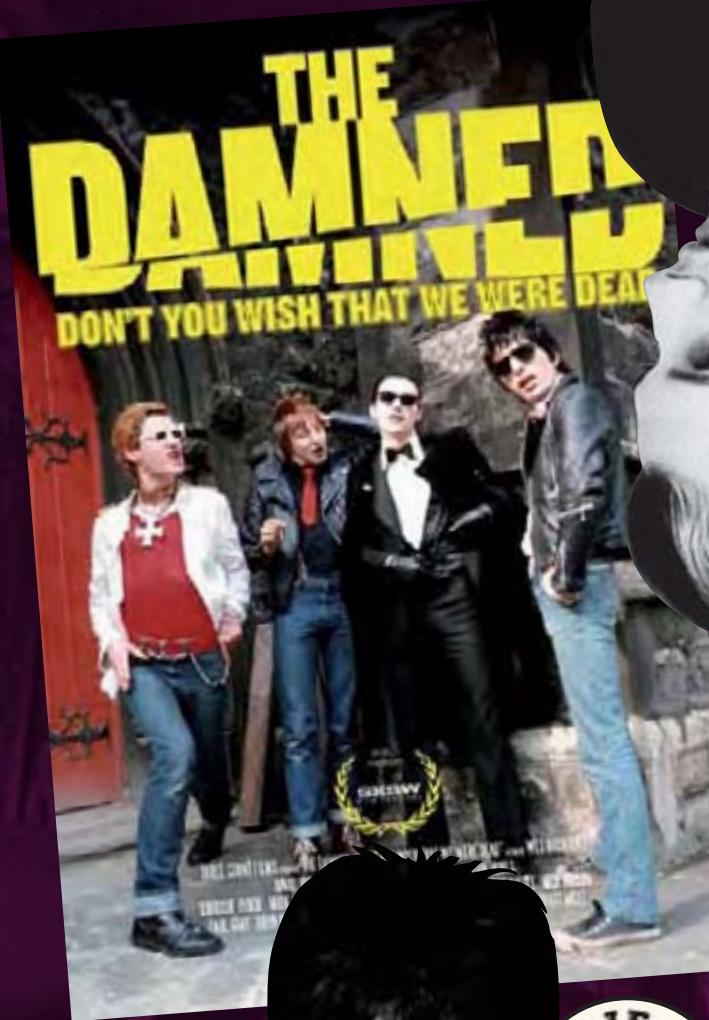

Hori nahikoa ez balitz, hurrengo egunean Bilbotik bueltaxka bat ematen ari ginela nor topatu kalean? Ba gure Kapitain Zentzudun maitea. Justu Donostiarra bueltatzekoak ginenean eta lainotik jaisteko ahaleginak egiten ari ginenean, aireportura zihoan kotxe batetik bapatean atera zen gu agurtzen, azken argazkiak ateratzen eta diskak eta kamixetak bidaltzeko eskatzen. A ze tipoa!

Duela hiru hilabete estrenatu dute SXSW festibalean taldearen inguruau egindako "The Damned: Don't you wish that we were dead" dokumentala. "Lemmy"-ren pelikula zuzendu zuen Wes Orshoski-k burutu du pelikula hau, Captain Sensible, Dave Vanian eta beste protagonista eta lagunekin hainbat urtez grabaketa lanak egiten ibili ondoren. Bestearen Lemmy eta Chrissie Hynde agertzen dira. Badaude pelma batzuk dokumental eta rock pelikula guztiak azaltzen direnak. Kasu honetan ordea erabat justifikatua dago, izan ere jende gutxik danielako bai Lemmy, bai Chrissie, The Damned-eko kide izan zirela epe laburretan. Motorhead-ek eta Damned-ek urte batzuetan ibilbide paraleloa eduki zuten eta lagunak izateaz aparte, kontzertu, grabazio, disketxe eta management berdina zeukan.

Madarikatuen historia istilutsua da... Lemmyk erabat jota zeudela zioen eta beraiek zirela talde punkien artean hoberena eta benetazkoena. The Clash edo Sex Pistolekin konparatuta ez zuten inoiz prentsa manipulatzen zuen manager makiavelikorik, ez eta arroa diseinataile propiorik izan ere... Lau izaera ezberdin batuketa zen eta hori zen beren txispa. Faktore hauetaz aparte, musikari apartak dira. Sinisten ez duenak entzungai ditu "Machine Gun Etiquette", "The Black Album", "Strawberries", "Phantasmagoria" edo azken formazioarekin (iraunkorrena) ateratako "Grave Disorder" edo "So, who's paranoid?". Rocka, psikodelia, garage eta poparen nahasketa zoragarria.

Oraindik ere sekulako zuzenekoak eskaintzen dituzte. Bilboko kontzertua izugarria izan zen. Hau ez da -askotan gurean gertatu den bezala-, ingalatterriko datorren punti mozkor talde bat. Hau beste liga bat da. Ea ongi merezita duten pelikula inguruau ikusteko aukera dugun.

damned for ever

It's a long time since British group The Damned last played here in a proper venue. At least thirteen years... It's great news they're coming back. I play guitar in Lie Detectors and we offered to open for them. Imagine how pleased I was. They offered us a pittance, but, to tell the truth, I think we'd even have been happy to play for nothing.

I have to admit that with some groups I'm quite the groupie. That said, when I've had the chance to play with some other groups I like a lot I've come across some real jerks, so I tend to be careful in situations like that. Often the big stars are the nicest and it's second level guys who act the super star. That didn't happen this time. They were nice people, approachable. When you see one of your favourite musicians watching the concert you're playing, it's a real shot in the arm for a fan like me. There was Captain Sensible, sitting down three metres away from me, smiling and doing an OK sign.

As if that weren't enough, who did we come across the next day while we were wandering around Bilbao? None other than the dear Captain himself. Just when we were about to go back to Donostia, walking around and trying to come down from our buzz, a car going to the airport stopped and he sprang out to say hi to us, take a last picture and ask us to send him records and T-shirts. What a bloke!

Three months ago at SXSW festival they showed a documentary about the group for the first time: "The Damned: Don't you wish that we were dead". The director of "Lemmy", Wes Orshoski, has made it after pulling together footage of Captain Sensible, Dave Vanian many other people down the years. Amongst others, Lemmy and Chrissie Hynde appear. There are some bores who turn up in all the documentaries and films about rock. But in this case their presence is fully justified: not a lot of people know that both Lemmy and Chrissie were members of The Damned for a short time. For some years Motorhead and The Damned went along parallel paths and, as well as being friends, they had the same concerts, recording sessions, record companies and management.

The history of the Damned is full of conflict... Lemmy says they were completely mad and the best, truest punk band. They never had a Machiavellian manager like The Clash and The Sex Pistols, always ready to play the press, or clothes designers... It was four different characters together, and that was what lit their spark. They're also excellent musicians. If you don't believe that, listen to "Machine Gun Etiquette", "The Black Album", "Strawberries", "Phantasmagoria" and the latest, longest lasting line-up's "Grave Disorder" and "So, who's paranoid?" A wonderful mixture of rock, psychedelia, garage and pop.

They still do fantastic concerts. The concert in Bilbao was amazing. They aren't one of those drunk English punk bands we get to see here so often. They're in a different league. We hope we are able to see the film they deserve so much.

"Gizon gogoraren istorioa" isn't Fargo, just as the industrial estates on the outskirts of Donostia aren't North Dakota, but the brothers from Zarautz's dark novel is in that same style. This reader, at least, was reminded of those aesthetic and narrative codes. A book you can take in over a single summer afternoon..

Joan Mari Irigoien idazlearen liburu hau, txantxaberdearen moduan, rara avis horietako bat da. Altzatarrak altzatarrei eskaini die, nahiz eta edozeinek irakurri eta gozatuko duen irakurketaz. Eta zer den txantxaberdearen kantu? Poesia, egunkaria, aforismoa, burutazio, aldarrikapen, aitormena, iraina, otoitz, hitz joko,... bi hitzetan: bizitzaren ekologia. Gure letren santutegian aspaldi bere tokia duenak, ez du perfekzioa bilatu auzo kidei eskaintako liburu xume eta punk honetan. Eta eskertzekoa da.

Writer Joan Mari Irigoien's book is as unusual a creature as a blue joke. He's from Altza and dedicates the book to his fellow Altzans, but anybody can read it. And what is "txantxaberdearen kantu", the blue joke song? Poetry, journalism, aphorisms, thoughts, proclamations, insults, prayers, puns... in short, an ecology of life. A writer who's long been consecrated, he hasn't aimed for perfection in this humble, punk book for his neighbours. And that's something to be glad about.

Katixa Agirre, Iratxe Fresneda, Josebe Iturrio, Irati Jimenez and Itziar Ziga look at various TV series and programmes from a feminist point of view. As is to be expected, some writer's texts will be more to your taste than others, but the work's main characteristic is that it deals with a contemporary issue. Our writers seldom address subjects in the very moment they're happening. To stop us always being one step behind, Txalaparta brings out these strange pop books from time to time, and it's something to be grateful for.

Loneliness, saltwater, fear and animals are their ingredients. Some books give you the chance to flee. This is one of them. Urrun dauden trenetan sartzen ari diren urrutiko ahotsen oihartzuna: trenek etxera eramango dituzte, ahotsak maite dituztenengana, ahotsak betiko maite dituztenengana. Eskailera beiraztatuek eta zikinek nire urratsak errepikatu, eta nire pentsamendua islatzen dituzte, hotz eta babesgabe, ia biluzik daude, goxoki paperak eta goizeko egunkaria izan ezik: Kotxe batek Jones jauna harrapatu du, heriotza eta tristeziaren titularrek biharko albisteak zabaltzen dituzte, eroak kaleetan zehar.

Eta metro geltokian nago, gauerdian.

Diru-xehe bila sakelan, eta Erregina atera dut, irribarrez, limurtzaile. Dirua sartu dut, eta nire atzean sari bat atera. Zurrumurruak itzaletan, ahots latzak, garrisika; nire zain, gorroto bizian. "Aizu, mutil!", oihu egiten didate, "dirurik bai?" Eta nik: "Diru pixkat badut, eta etxera eramateko kurri bat, etxera noa, emaztearengana, mahai prestatzen ari da, nire zain dago, badakizue, edalontziei distira atera eta botilari kortxoa kendu."

Eta metro geltokian nago, gauerdian.

Lehen, ukabil bat sentitu nuen, gero ostikada, ostean haien arnasa usain nezakeen. Taberna usaina zuten, eta kartzelarena, eta eskuin-muturreko mitin gehiegi jaso dutenena. Bizitzak nire inguruan igeri egin zuen, begirada bat bota nuen, eta ito egin nintzen bizitzan beran. Larru marroiaren usainak eguraldiarekin bat egin zuen; nire begiak, belarriak, sudurra eta ahoa bete zituen: engoitik ezin nuen ikusi, entzun, hitz egin...

Eta metro geltokian nago, gauerdian.

Han, lur gainean etzanda, ero ateo batek egindako pintada izan zen ikusi nuen azken gaua: "Jesusek salbatzen gaitu", eta British Railek afixa batek zion: "Egin ihesaldi bat, gozatu gaur opor-egun merke batez, egizu gaur!" Nire bizitza gogoratu eta emaztea ere bai, nire giltzak hartu zituztelako ni naizela pentsatuko du, eta ardoak indarrik gabe egongo da, eta kurria hotz.

Eta metro geltokian nago, gauerdian.
Ez dut metro geltokira joan nahi , gauerdian.

The distant echo of faraway voices boarding faraway trains to take them home to the ones that they love and who love them forever. The glazed, dirty steps, repeat my own and reflect my thoughts.

Cold and uninviting, partially naked except for toffee wrappers and this morning's paper:

Mr. Jones got run down, headlines of death and sorrow, they tell of tomorrow, madmen on the rampage.

And I'm down in the tube station at midnight.

I fumble for change, and pull out the Queen, smiling, beguiling. I put in the money and pull out a plum behind me. Whispers in the shadows, gruff, blazing voices hating, waiting.
"Hey boy", they shout, "Have you got any money?" And I said, "I've a little money and a take-away curry, I'm on my way home to my wife. She'll be lining up the cutlery, you know she's expecting me, polishing the glasses and pulling out the cork."

And I'm down in the tube station at midnight.

I first felt a fist, and then a kick, I could now smell their breath.
They smelt of pubs and wormwood scrubs and too many right wing meetings.
My life swam around me, it took a look and drowned me in its own existence.
The smell of brown leather, it blended in with the weather, it filled my eyes, ears, nose and mouth, it blocked all my senses: couldn't see, hear, speak any longer.

And I'm down in the tube station at midnight.

The last thing that I saw as I lay there on the floor was "Jesus saves" painted by an atheist nutter.
And a British Rail poster read "have an away day, a cheap holiday, do it today!"
I glanced back on my life and thought about my wife 'cause they took the keys, and she'll think it's me, the wine will be flat and the curry's gone cold.

And I'm down in the tube station at midnight.
Don't want to go down in a tube station at midnight.

a way for fashion

Modan sozialki eragitea posible delako sortua du Katalin Antxia diseinatzaileak Modubat proiektua. Ez dira jantzi soila, moda euskarri bat baino. Modubat izena aukeratu dute, bi hitz horiekin mundua hobeto ulertzten dutelako. Bakoitzak baduelako alegia modu bat gauzak egiteko, jasateko, emateko, eta bizitzeko. Eta kasu honetan estetika ulertzeko.

Estetikari kontzientzia kendu nahian, honek ez dezan gure buruaren garuna gupidarik gabe astindu, moda kontzientea bultzatu nahi du proiektu honek jasangarriak izanda zentzurik zabaleanen. Etika kontuan hartuta produkzioari dagokionean, lehengo munduan eta baldintza egokietan ekoiztuta. Eta materialari duen garrantzia emanaz, hauek zainduz, hain beraienak diren diseinu klasiko eta minimalistak egikaritzeko orduan. "Jantzia modua dela ezin dugu ahaztu" dio Antxiak.

The Modubat Project has come about because the designer Katalin Antxia believes fashion can be a social influence. They are not just clothes, but also a medium for fashion. They have chosen the name Modubat (Oneway) because they believe the two words represent a better understanding of the world. This is because everybody has one way of doing, enduring and giving things, a way of living. And in this case here; one way of understanding aesthetics.

In order to remove conscience from aesthetics, so it does not pummel our minds relentlessly, this project aims to enforce a conscientious fashion, sustainable in the widest sense of the word. From an ethical perspective, the clothes are made in appropriate labour conditions in the first world. The material is afforded the importance it deserves and is carefully chosen for the minimalist classic designs so typical of Antxia. "We must not forget that the garment is also a way" says Antxia.

roaren metazoa by roa

ROA kale artista belgiarraren azken proiektuak, bere ohiko lan ildoari eusten dio. Animali erre-tratuak egiten diardu, nagusiki ingurune urbanoetatik bota ditugun animalia horiek. Normalki, tokian tokiko animaliak margotzen ditu hirietako paretetan. Kasu honetan, New Yorkeko galeria batean propio esekitzeko lana egin du. Eta bere ohiko muralak margotu beharrean, proposamen liluragarri bat asmatu du.

Bere muralak gauzatzeko, normalean kolore aukera mugatua erabiltzen du. Kasu honetan ere, zuria, beltza eta gorri koloreekin soilik, animalien anatomiak pintatu ditu, baina propio eginiko altzari estruktura berezietan. Normalean animaliaren kanto itxura edo barne anatomiaaren artean aukeratu behar izaten duen artistak, oraingoan, biak obra berean barneratzeko modua topatu du.

Belgian street-artist ROA's latest work follows on from where his previous projects left off. He paints portraits of animals, particularly paintings of animals we have banished from our urban environments. This particular set of paintings came about as a result of a residency in a New York gallery, so, instead of his usual murals, he has created a different fascinating proposition. When he does his paintings, he normally uses a limited range of colours. This time it's no different as he only uses black, white and red to paint the animals' anatomies, but on this occasion he has painted on specially made unusually-shaped furniture structures. Normally, an artist would have to choose between painting the outer appearance or the anatomy of an animal, but ROA has come up with a way to include both in the same piece of art.

Txileko San Clemente herriko biztanleek badakite unibertsoan ez gaudela bakarrik. Edo hori sinistea komeni zaie behintzat. Duela hiru urte "Ruta Ufologica El Enladrillado" sortu zutenetik, erdialdeko mendikatean kokatua dagoen herri honek ez duelako krisialdirik eza-gutu. Gobernuaren turismo zerbitzu nazionalaren zigilu ofizialarekin (Sernatur), milaka dira eskualde honetara hurbiltzen direnak beste planetetako biztanleen seinale eta aztarnen bila.

OHE ikuskatze ibilbideak 30 kilometro inguru ditu eta Altos de Lircay erreserba nazionalaren barruan dago. Parkearen zonalde garaienean, 2.300 metrora, El Enladrillado izeneko meseta dago. Eta bertan, zonaldeari izena ematen dioten 200dik gora harri bloke erraldoiak. Baldosak bailiran kokatuak, 1000 metroko labar baten ertzeraino garamatzate.

Extralurtarren ontzien lur hartzeta eta aire hartzeta pista bat direla uste dute askok. Erich von Däniken idazle suitzar ezagunak eta Rafael Videla antropologo eta historialari txiletarrek defendatzen duten teoriaren arabera, El Enladrillado beste planetetako biztanleentzat aireportua zen.

San Clementeko alkate ohiak, Juan Rojasek, ongi azaldu zuen ibilbide ufologikoa zabaldu zuten egunean bota zuen hitzaldian: "Nik badakit martzianoek gu aukeratu gintuztela. Beste edozein tokitan azaldu zintzkeen baina gu aukeratu gintuzten. Badakizue zergatik? Espazioko lagunek badakitelako gu jende ona eta zoriontsua garela. Akaso ez dugu heziketa edo barniz soziala, baina hemen beste aberastasun batzuk ditugu, natura, behiak, animalitxoak, mendiak eta urtegiak. Eta martziarrak konturatu egiten dira eta hona dator. Ez da existitzen OHErik ikusi ez duen sanclementinorik. Nik bi ikusi ditut, eta orain ibilbide honi esker gure herria ere munduari erakutsiko diogu".

The inhabitants of San Clemente, in Chile, know that we aren't alone in the universe. Or, at least, that's what it suits them to believe. Since they set up 'El Enladrillado UFO Route' three years ago, this town in the middle of the mountain range has prospered. It has been given the official government tourism seal (Sernatur) and thousands of people go to the area to look for traces and signs of beings from other planets.

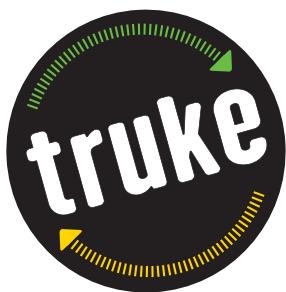

The route is around 30 kilometres long and in the Altos de Lircay national reserve. In the highest part of the park, at 2,300 metres above sea level, there is a plateau called El Enladrillado. It takes its name from the more than 200 giant blocks of stone there. Positioned as if they were tiles, they take us to the edge of a one thousand-metre high cliff.

Many people think they are aliens' landing and taking off runways.

According to the theory defended by the famous Swiss writer Erich von Däniken and the Chilean anthropologist Rafael Videla, El Enladrillado was an airport for beings from other planets.

The former mayor San Clemente, Juan Rojas, explained it clearly on the day he opened the UFO route: "I know for a fact that the Martians chose us. They could have turned up anywhere, but they chose us. Do you all know why? It was because those guys from space know we're good people, happy people. Maybe we're not highly educated, we don't have much social finery, but we have other types of wealth: nature, cows, little animals, mountains and water reservoirs. And the Martians are aware of that and have come here. There's nobody from San Clemente who hasn't seen a UFO. I've seen two and now, thanks to this route, we're going to show our town to the world too."

Julien de Casabianca artista eta zinegileak hasi zuen proiektu honek jarraitzaile ugari bildu ditu munduan zehar. Ideia simple bezain ederra da. Telefonoa hartu eta museoetan zintzilik dauden erretratuak argazkiak atera ostean, hauek paperean inprimatu eta kaleetako paretetan jartzea. Hiri ezberdinetako museotan gordeta dauden obrak "askatzeko" egitasmo honi esker gainera, hain ezagunak ez diren erretratu eta koadroetako pertsonaien inguruan jakin mina piztu da.

This global participative project set in motion by artist and filmmaker Julien de Casabianca has attracted many fans and followers all over the world. The idea is as simple as it is beautiful. First of all, you use your phone to take photos of portraits in museums, and then you print them and paste them to walls in streets anywhere. As well as "liberating" works of art stored away in different museums, the project has also sparked interest in the subjects of lesser known portraits and paintings.

Eritmo, tonu, armonia eta inprobisazioaren estetika konpartitzen dituzte musikak eta kartelgintzak. Tolouse Lautrec, Alphonse Mucha edo eta Gustav Klimmt-ek kontzertu eta espektakulu ezberdinenzat kartelak egin zituztenetik, iragarki kartela, formatua aproposa izan da esperimentazio grafikorako. Maisu sobietarren abangoardia, 50. hamarkadako jazz eta hi-fidelity kutsua, 60. hamarkadako kontrakultura, ondoren iritsi ziren pop eta punk korroneak, aurreko guztien nahasketa eta berrirakurketak,... Gurean azken urteotan kontzertuetarako kartelak egiten diharduten hiru artistei beren lan batzuk erakusketako eskatu diegu.

Rhythm, tone, harmony, improvisation... All things which music and poster making have in common. Since Tolouse Lautrec, Alphonse Mucha and Gustav Klimmt made posters for concerts and other types of shows, advertising posters have become a good format for graphic experimentation. The vanguard Soviet masters, the 50's with their jazz and hi-fidelity touch, counter-culture in the 60's, followed by pop and punk, the combination and reinterpretation of all of the above... We've asked three concert poster makers from recent years to show us some of their work.

90 hamarkadaren hasieran argazki, fotokopia eta letaset-arekin nire talde kuttunen txapak egiten nituen. Garai hartan, txapak desagertu egin ziren eta Pin-ak nagusitu ziren, beraz neronek egitea zen irtenbidea. Hura izan zen diseinu grafikora urbildu nintzen lehen aldia. Beranduago Diseinu Grafiko ikasketak egin eta ordundik nabil grafikagintzan lanean. Beti ibili izan naiz taldeetan jotzen, beraz, denbora kontua zen diseinua musikarekin elkartzea.

In the 90's I used to make badges about my favourite groups using photos, photocopies and letaset. As badges had disappeared by then – it was all pins – the only thing I could do was make them myself. I guess that's what first drew me towards graph design. I went on to study Graphic Design and I've been working in this ever since. I've always played in groups so it was just a matter of time before music and design came together for me.

Diseinu eskolan ikasi nuen eta bertan diseinatzeko beharrezkoak diren baliabide tekniko eta artistikoak bereganatu nituen. Nire estiloa forma hartzen joan zen. Gainera, esperimentatzeko eta langile bezala hobetzeko aukera izan nuen irungo Dirty Pink Ladies rock taldearekin. Lagunak ziren eta 2010. urte inguruau kontzertu asko eskaini zituzten. Beraiek izan ziren lehenengoak. Gerotzik, promotore eta talde dezenterenak lan egin dut diskoetako azalak, kartelak eta posterrak burutzen.

I studied at design school and mastered the technical and artistic resources I needed for designing there. My own style started to take shape. And I had the chance to experiment and become better at what I do with Dirty Pink Ladies, a rock group from Irun. They were friends of mine and they did a lot of concerts around 2010. They were the first ones. Since then I've come up with record covers and concert posters for quite a few groups.

Duela gutxi erabaki nuen diseinu grafikoaren mundu honetan sartzea eta nire kabuz ikastea. Unibertsitatean zientziekin zerikusia zuen karrera bat amaitu eta lan arloan etsita geratu nintzenez, nire bizitzarekin zer egin bilatzen ari nintzenean Ayo Silver-ek (kontzertu antolatzaile emankorra) kolaborazioak eskatu zizkidan. Momentu hartan bizitzaren alderdi sortzailearekin konektatu nintzen berriro eta bat batean, hau lanbide bihurtu zait.

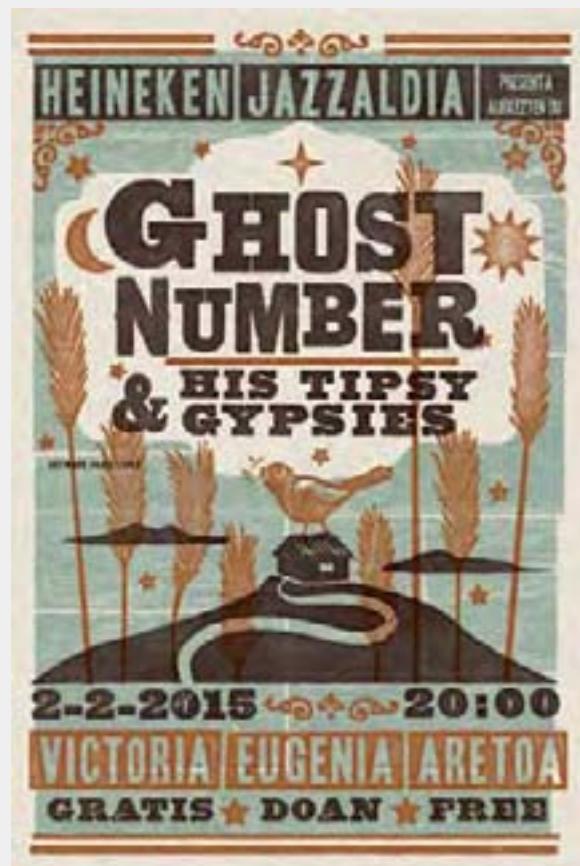

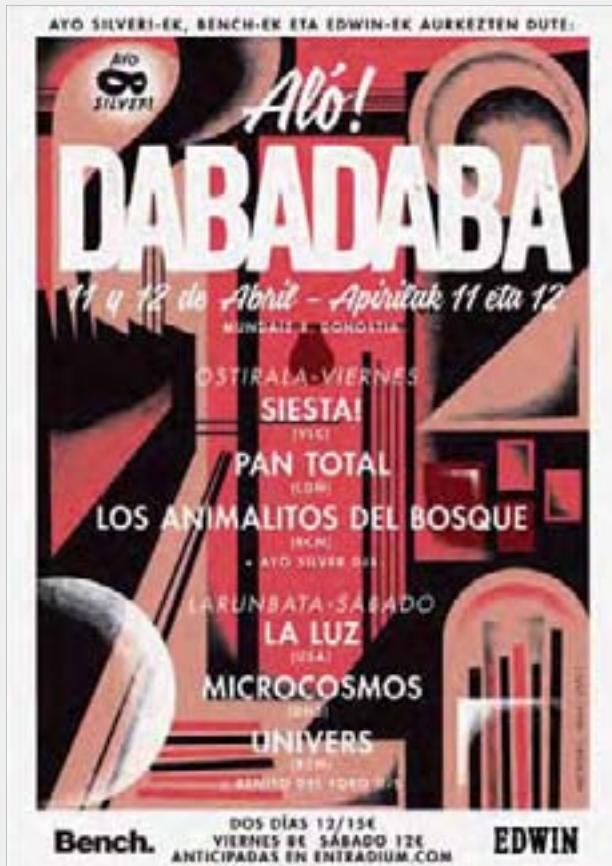

I decided to get into the graphic design world and teach myself how to do things quite recently. When I finished my science degree and found there weren't any jobs for me I started looking around for something to do with my life and then Ayo Silver – who organize a lot of concerts – asked me to do work for them. I got back in touch with my creative side and all of a sudden this became a job for me.

Candy Candy

Candy, 1898. urteko maiatzaren 7an topatu zuten abandonaturik Michigan lakuko uhertzean. Pony umezurtz institutu batean hazi eta hezi zuten.

Annie bere haurtzako lagun minak, berari zegokion familiarekin bizitzera joan zenean hasi ziren bere desgraziak.

Leagan familiak adoptatu zuen eta garai hartan ezagutuko zuen bere lehen maitasuna, Archie.

Bikoteari Terry, gehitukoz zaio. Candyk, Archie zintza eta Terry errebeldearen artean ezin zuenez aukeratu, hirukote bat zer zen erakutsi zigun garaiko haur askori.

Italian, telesailaren amaiera hain dramatikoa iruditu zitzaien (maitasuna ez da garaile ateratzentz), eskena ezberdinak birziklatuaz amaiera berri bat asmatu ziotela.

Candy Candy, Kyoko Mizuki idazleak eta Yumiko Igarashi manga marrazkilariak sortu zuten 1975. urtean. Telesaila 1979. urterar arte emititu zen.

1998. urteaz gerotzik debekatua dago telesaila emititzea Igarashi eta Mizukiren arteko gatazka legal baten ondorioz.

Orduztki Mizukik Candy Candy istorioak idatziz ditzake baina ilustraziorik gabe eta Igarashik marrazkiak egin ditzake Candy Candy izena erabili gabe.

Candy was found abandoned on the shore of Lake Michigan on the 7th of May, 1898. She was brought up in the Pony Orphanage Institute.

Her troubles started when her childhood best friend Annie went away to live with the family that had adopted her.

She was then taken in by the Leagan family and it was at that time that she would meet her first love, Archie.

The couple was joined by Terry. Candy, unable to choose between the upright, reliable Archie and the rebellious Terry, taught many of us children the meaning of the word "trio" back then.

In Italy, they were so shocked at such a dramatic ending (love did not conquer all) that they chopped together bits of different scenes in order to make up another ending.

Candy Candy was created by writer Kyoko Mizuki and manga illustrator Yumiko Igarashi in 1975T The TV series was broadcast until 1979.

Since 1998, the TV show has not been able to be shown because of a legal dispute between Igarashi and Mizuki.

Since then, Mizuki has been allowed to write Candy Candy stories but he cannot use illustrations. Igarashi, can draw stories but he is not allowed to use the name Candy Candy.
